RP ALTERNATIVE GLOBAL BOND FUND

Annual Management Report of Fund Performance for the year ended December 31, 2024

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

The management discussion of fund performance for RP Alternative Global Bond Fund (the “Fund”) represents the view of RP Investment Advisors LP (the “Manager”) of the significant factors and developments affecting the Fund’s performance and outlook for the period from January 1, 2024, to December 31, 2024 (the “reporting period”).

Investment Objective and Strategies

The primary objective of the Fund is to generate attractive risk-adjusted returns with an emphasis on capital preservation. The Fund intends to invest primarily in investment grade debt and debt-like securities of corporations and financial institutions. The Fund may also use derivatives for leverage, engage in short selling and borrow cash for investment purposes.

Risk

The risks associated with investing in the Fund remain as discussed in the Prospectus. The Fund is suitable for medium to long-term investors seeking exposure to primarily investment grade debt securities of global issuers by employing alternative investment strategies with low to medium risk. The major risks for the Fund are credit risk, leverage risk, and interest rate risk. Additional details of the risks associated with investing in the Fund are available in the Prospectus. For the period ended December 31, 2024, there were no material changes affecting the overall level of risk associated with an investment in the Fund.

Results of Operations

The Fund had a net asset value of $1.6 billion at the end of the reporting period, with approximately $770.6 million contributed by Fund investors and $97 million resulting from Fund performance.

Class F units of the Fund returned +8.98% for the reporting period. The performance of the other classes of the Fund is substantially similar, save for differences in fees and expenses. Refer to the “Past Performance” section for performance information of each class, as applicable. No unusual trends in sales, redemptions, or changes to the components of revenue and expenses were identified during the reporting period.

The Fund generated positive returns from both interest rate and credit spread exposure during the period. Active management of the Fund’s interest rate exposure, as measured by duration, helped navigate several episodes of elevated interest rate volatility. To highlight the Fund’s active nature, duration averaged 2.2 years during the period, but ranged between 0.3-4.3 years, as the Manager increased duration only when it was convinced it was being compensated to do so.

Similarly, the Manager actively managed the portfolio’s credit exposure during the period, depending on the opportunity set across global bond markets. Geographically, the Fund rotated between markets, but ultimately carried a higher weighting to Canadian credit relative to its long-run average, which proved beneficial, given that Canadian credit spreads outperformed their US and European counterparts. In terms of credit quality, the Manager moved up-in-quality by favoring A-rated credit, limiting the Fund’s high yield exposure, and carrying elevated levels of dynamic hedging exposures.

Returns from credit exposures were driven by financial exposures, which were led by global/domestic systemically important bank issuers. More specifically, the Fund took advantage of strong performance in subordinated European bank debt. Energy-infrastructure issuers, including hybrid securities of Canadian-based companies, were strong contributors during the period. Other contributions came from telecom and media issuers, industrial issuers with idiosyncratic catalysts, and select asset backed securities were also strong contributors during the period. The Fund's dynamic hedging portfolio was a net detractor during the reporting period, but the Manager remained comfortable with sacrificing modest amounts of yield premium to embed downside protection.

Borrowing

During the reporting period, the Fund's minimum amount of borrowing was $Nil (0.00%) and the maximum amount of borrowing was 42.25% of the total assets under management. As of December 31, 2024, borrowing in the portfolio amounted $Nil (0.00%) of the net assets of the Fund. The Fund utilized borrowing to achieve its investment objectives. The Fund borrowed money from its prime broker which is an entity qualified to act as a custodian and was done so per the borrowing agreement in accordance with standard industry practice.

Leverage

The Fund uses leverage through derivatives, short selling, and cash borrowing. Pursuant to National Instrument 81-102 ("NI 81-102") the Fund's maximum aggregate exposure to short selling, cash borrowing, and derivatives used for non-hedging purposes must not exceed 300% of the Fund's net asset value. Part 2 of NI 81-102 further restricts an alternative mutual fund to a maximum exposure to cash borrowed and securities sold short to 50% of the Fund's net asset value. In December 2019, the Fund was granted relief from certain requirements in NI 81-102 which permits the Fund to engage in short selling of government securities, as defined by NI 81-102, in excess of 50% of its net asset value. This relief was expanded during the period, as described under Recent Developments. The Fund remains subject to the overall aggregate exposure limit of 300%.

The sources of leverage utilized by the Fund included short positions in corporate bonds, government bond short selling, cash borrowing, and derivatives such as swaps, used for non-hedging purposes. From January 1, 2024, to December 31, 2024, its aggregate exposure to cash borrowing, short selling, and derivatives used for non-hedging purposes ranged from 104.99% to 287.16%.

Recent Developments

During the reporting period, the Fund did not undergo material changes, including but not limited to its investment objectives, strategic positioning, risk rating or accounting policies. The composition of the Fund's Independent Review Committee ("IRC") changed during the period. Chair of the IRC, Joe Oliver's term ended on February 26, 2024. On the same date James Sinclair was appointed as a member of the IRC and Elizabeth McEwen was appointed as IRC Chair.

Effective June 3, 2024, Class T5, Class T5-USD, Class F5, and Class F5-USD units of the Fund were created and made available for purchase.

The minimum initial investment was removed in all classes except for Class O, Class O-USD units.

During the period the Fund obtained specified regulatory relief from the Ontario Securities Commission pertaining to NI 81-102. The relief extends the definition of "government securities" to include securities issued by the federal governments of Germany and the United Kingdom as it pertains the short selling hedging strategies employed by the Fund.

The interplay between global economies and central banks will likely continue to dictate bond market performance in 2025. Markets will be acutely focused on the extent of tariff implementation and its effect on growth and inflation. Bond demand continues to be exceptionally strong, as all-in yields remain attractive. This has continued to fuel insatiable demand from yield-sensitive institutional and retail investors alike and has supported expensive index-level credit spread valuations.

The Manager believes this is a market where prudence is critical, given the uncertainty on the horizon and arguably stretch valuations of risk premia. Accordingly, the Manager is committed to capturing value through tactical trades where credit selection and active management are paramount to success. Similarly, the Manager aims to balance interest rate risk, credit risk, and volatility in the equity market that may impact bonds, with the expectation that uncertainty will persist as investors await the ripple effects of political policies and the development of geopolitical risks. The Fund will continue to utilize its full investable toolkit, especially its dynamic hedging capabilities to embed downside protection.

Related Party Transactions

The Investment Manager manages the overall business and operations of the Fund, including such matters as administration service and fund accounting. The Investment Manager is also responsible for portfolio management and advisory services for the Fund as Portfolio Advisor.

Management Fees

The Investment Manager receives a monthly management fee for providing its service to the Fund. Service includes but not limited to determining and implementing investment policies, practices and strategies, ensuring daily operations and administration of the Fund. The management fee varies for each class of units and is calculated and accrued daily based on a percentage of the net asset value of the class of units of the Fund, plus applicable taxes.

Performance Fees

The Investment Manager receives from the Fund a performance fee payable, in arrears, quarterly and upon the redemption of a Class A, Class A-USD, Class F, Class F-USD, Class O, and Class O-USD unit equal to 10% of the positive amount, if any, obtained when the High-Water Mark for each such unit is subtracted from the Adjusted Net Asset Value of such unit on such Valuation Day.

Operating Expenses

The Investment Manager will be responsible for the operating expenses of the Fund, other than certain Fund costs (the "Fund Costs") described below, in exchange for the payment by the Fund of a fixed rate administration fee of 0.25% per annum. Operating expense is accrued daily based on the net asset value of the Fund before daily management fee accruals.

The Fund Costs which are payable directly by the Fund are fees, costs and expenses associated with all taxes, brokerage commissions and fees (if applicable), borrowing and interest, security holder meeting fees, the operation of the independent review committee ("IRC") (including the costs of holding meetings, and fees and expenses of any advisers engaged by the IRC) or other advisory committee, compliance with any governmental and regulatory requirements.

The Fund did not rely on any approval, positive recommendation or standing instruction from its IRC with respect to any related party transactions.

(1) This information is provided as at December 31 of the year shown.

(2) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding broker commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover ratio indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio manager manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover ratio of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover ratio in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high portfolio turnover rate and the performance of the Fund.

Forward-Looking Statements

This Annual Management Report of Fund Performance, including “Results of Operations” and “Recent Developments” may contain forward-looking statements which reflect the current expectations of the Manager with respect to future events. The statements are based on assumptions made by the Manager from information available at the time, regarding but not limited to, the Fund, financial markets and/or economic conditions. Many factors could cause the Fund’s actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements that may be expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements involve significant risks, uncertainties and assumptions about future events and factors that may prove to be incorrect at a future date. These factors could include, among other things, general economic, political and market factors, including interest and foreign exchange rates, business competition, changes in government regulations or in tax laws and catastrophic events. Although the forward-looking statements contained in this report are based upon what the Manager currently believes to be reasonable assumptions, the Manager cannot assure current or prospective investors that actual results, performance or achievements will be consistent with these forward-looking statements. The Manager undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect a change in assumption, belief or event.
