Management Discussion of Fund Performance

The management discussion of fund performance for RP Strategic Income Plus Fund (the “Fund”) represents the view of RP Investment Advisors LP (the “Manager”) of the significant factors and developments affecting the Fund’s performance and outlook for the period from January 1, 2024, to December 31, 2024 (the “reporting period”).

Investment Objective and Strategies

The primary objective of the Fund is to produce stable risk-adjusted absolute returns. The Fund intends to achieve its investment objective by investing primarily in investment-grade fixed income instruments, predominantly on a long basis, but with the ability to use cash-covered short positions to hedge interest rate risk.

Risks

The risks associated with investing in the Fund remain as discussed in the Prospectus. The Fund is suitable for medium to long-term investors seeking income returns with low risk. The major risks for the Fund are credit risk and interest rate risk. Additional details of the risks associated with investing in the Fund are available in the Prospectus. For the period ended December 31, 2024, there were no material changes affecting the overall level of risk associated with an investment in the Fund.

Results of Operations

The Fund had a net asset value of $2.9 billion at the end of the reporting period, with approximately $370.4 million contributed by Fund investors and $145.8 million resulting from Fund performance.

Class F units of the Fund returned +5.12% for the reporting period. The performance of the other classes of the Fund is substantially similar, save for differences in fees and expenses. Refer to the “Past Performance” section for performance information of each class, as applicable. No unusual trends in sales, redemptions, or changes to the components of revenue and expenses were identified during the reporting period.

The Fund generated positive returns from both interest rate and credit spread exposure during the period. Active management of the Fund’s interest rate exposure, as measured by duration, helped navigate several episodes of elevated interest rate volatility. The Manager sourced the majority of the Fund’s interest rate exposure from Canada during the period, which proved beneficial, given that Canadian interest rates performed better than their US and European counterparts.

Similarly, the Manager actively managed the portfolio’s credit exposure during the period, depending on the opportunity set across global bond markets. Geographically, the Fund carried a higher weighting to Canadian credit relative to its long-run average, which proved beneficial, given that Canadian credit spreads outperformed their US and European counterparts. In terms of credit quality, the Manager moved up-in-quality by favoring A-rated and government-related (federal, provincial, and agency) exposures and limiting the Fund’s high yield exposure.

Returns from credit exposures were driven by energy-infrastructure issuers, including hybrid securities of Canadian-based companies. Other contributions came from global/domestic systemically important bank issuers across markets and select specialty financials like aircraft lessors. Telecom and media issuers, including domestic telecoms and US media companies, were also strong contributors during the period.

Recent Developments

During the reporting period, the Fund did not undergo material changes, including but not limited to its investment objectives, strategic positioning, risk rating or accounting policies. The composition of the Fund's Independent Review Committee ("IRC") changed during the period. Chair of the IRC, Joe Oliver's term ended on February 26, 2024. On the same date James Sinclair was appointed as a member of the IRC and Elizabeth McEwen was appointed as IRC Chair.

The minimum initial investment was removed in all classes except for Class O units.

During the period the Fund obtained specified regulatory relief from the Ontario Securities Commission pertaining to National Instrument 81-102. The relief extends the definition of "government securities" to include securities issued by the federal governments of Germany and the United Kingdom as it pertains the short selling hedging strategies employed by the Fund.

The interplay between global economies and central banks will likely continue to dictate bond market performance in 2025. Markets will be acutely focused on the extent of tariff implementation and its effect on growth and inflation. Bond demand continues to be exceptionally strong, as all-in yields remain attractive. This has continued to fuel insatiable demand from yield-sensitive institutional and retail investors alike and has supported expensive index-level credit spread valuations.

The Manager believes this is a market where prudence is critical, given the uncertainty on the horizon and arguably stretch valuations of risk premia. Accordingly, the Manager is committed to capturing value through tactical trades where credit selection and active management are paramount to success. Similarly, the Manager aims to balance interest rate risk, credit risk, and volatility in the equity market that may impact bonds, with the expectation that uncertainty will persist as investors await the ripple effects of political policies and the development of geopolitical risks.

Related Party Transactions

The Manager manages the overall business and operations of the Fund, including such matters as administration service and fund accounting. The Manager is also responsible for portfolio management and advisory services for the Fund as Portfolio Advisor.

Management Fee

The Manager receives a monthly management fee for providing its service to the Fund. Service includes but not limited to determining and implementing investment policies, practices and strategies; ensuring daily operations and administration of the Fund. The management fee varies for each class of units and is calculated and accrued daily based on a percentage of the net asset value of the class of units of the Fund, plus applicable taxes.

Operating Expense

The Manager will be responsible for the operating expenses of the Fund, other than certain fund costs (the "Fund Costs") described below, in exchange for the payment by the Fund of a fixed rate administration fee of 0.25% per annum. Operating expense is accrued daily based on the net asset value of the Fund before daily management fee accruals.

The Fund costs which are payable directly by the Fund are fees, costs and expenses associated with all taxes, brokerage commissions and fees (if applicable), borrowing and interest, security holder meeting fees, the operation of the independent review committee ("IRC") (including the costs of holding meetings, and fees and

(1) This information is provided as at December 31 of the year shown.

(2) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding broker commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover ratio indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio manager manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover ratio of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover ratio in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high portfolio turnover rate and the performance of the Fund.

* Information presented is for the partial period from the Fund Class start date.

 Total net asset value and ending NAV per unit of USD classes are presented in U.S. dollars.
